Brian Laster swore he'd never return to his home town of Haven, Montana. After all, he'd been a total dick to everyone there before he'd left, including his mother. However, in the past ten years, things had changed. He had changed. Coming home wasn't something he'd wanted to do, but this time it wasn't his choice. It was his job. Mia's latest assignment brought her to the small town and directly into Brian's bed. Not that she had any complaints of working with the dark, tall, and very sexy man, but as with everything else in her life, she knew it would only end in trouble.

New York Times bestselling author Jill Sanders strikes gold with a sizzling series about oil-rich playboys whose hearts are up for grabs. No one's more surprised than Tyler McGowan when he discovers he has a knack for running the family's oil business--a role he took on after his father's sudden passing. Now, to keep the old man's legacy afloat, Tyler's giving up his playboy ways and settling into small-town life. But his newfound resolve is tested when trouble strides into his office in five-inch heels. Kristen Howell has spent the last five years working her way up the corporate ladder. And somehow it's landed her smack-dab in the middle of nowhere: Haven, Montana. It's her job to convince the head of McGowan Enterprises to sell. But the tall and rangy hunk is proving to be exceedingly stubborn--and overwhelmingly hot. When someone attempts to derail her negotiations, Kristen is ready to get down and dirty. But the sparks she and Tyler are throwing near the oil field may be dangerously combustible...

When Eve inherits the family business, Candlewood Inn, she leaves her controlling ex and her job in Seattle behind to head to her childhood home on a small island on the Canadian border. She arrives to find that her family is in an uproar over her grandfather's very legal dying wishes. After all, the group of sniveling babies had been living rent-free in the luxurious outdated hotel for years and using her grandfather's bank account to bankroll their own extravagant lives. But Eve has a business degree and all the power now, and she'll have to kick her family out of their rent-free, carefree lives if she plans on saving the inn and herself from ruin. Single-dad Dylan started his own handyman business a few years back. He's the only one on Orcas Island who can swing a hammer and not miss. So, when the new owner takes over at Candlewood Inn and hires him to remodel the old place, he jumps at the chance to make his mark on the huge building. Working with Eve is a pure delight, since the woman seems to know what she's after. The fact that she's nice to look at, and that Dylan's daughter, Palmer, is infatuated with her, is a bonus. It's the rest of the Candlewood family they will need to worry about. Especially, since it appears someone is out to destroy everything they are working for before they even really get started.

Someone to watch over Rose. Losing her husband in a small plane crash last year has forced Rose to get on with her life. But when a storm rolls in, her world is shattered with the discovery of a body buried deep within her own walls. Now, as all fingers point in her direction, a mistress steps out of the shadows, along with a dark family scandal that might shed some light on motive. As people around her drop like flies, the real killer gets too close, and Rose seeks the help of the police officer who knocked on her door one rainy night a year ago. Royce Sawyer is the cop who'd had to tell Rose that the love of her life was gone forever. Seeing the pretty blonde's struggles for the last year has been heart-wrenching, but when everyone starts to suspect the quiet wife has a dark side, Sawyer finds it hard to keep his personal feelings separate from his professional ones, especially when it's obvious that someone's out to stop him from getting to the truth.

Just because she has fiery red hair, doesn't mean that Aubrey has the temperament to match it. Actually, it was quite the opposite, Aubrey was the shy one out of the group of friends. Maybe it was the horrors she'd had to endure growing up or maybe it was because until she'd met her four best friends that summer long ago, she'd never felt a connection before. Now, as her best friends find love, she starts to dream about the day she could open her own life to something bigger, and she'd been dreaming for a while now about who she wanted to share it with. Aiden was the first employee the five friends had hired on at River Camps. He'd been there since the first nail was struck on the remodel and was excited when they had decided to keep him on around the camps to build more cabins. Seeing what his hard work had done for the place, he couldn't help feeling pride as he walked around the place. The only thing that made his steps falter was bumping into the very sexy but shy Aubrey.

Jessica was getting tired of fighting fate. Not only had some really weird stuff been going on the past few months, but now she found herself crawling out of Jacob's bed. She hated the guy. Well, okay, she'd avoided the guy. Sure, she'd fantasized about him most of her life, but that didn't mean she couldn't fight the attraction. Something was coming and everyone in town felt it, not just the chosen group she'd found herself part of in the last few months. And, if her being with Jacob was fated, she was determined to fight it for as long as she could because she knew what was coming, even when no one else did. She knew how important everyone's roles were in the next few weeks. But with the disappearance of Breanna, fate may have just taken a huge turn. For the worse. Jacob has completely lost it. That's the only explanation for what he'd been going through. And now, he's suddenly found himself inexplicably drawn to Jess. This new desire he feels for her is stronger than the need to breathe. What new powers did this witch hold over him? And more important, was there a chance they would survive the upcoming horrors?
