In third grade, you will likely not need to meet with all students in a guided reading group. My groups consist of students who are reading exactly at grade level or below. I do not place students who are reading above grade level in a guided reading group. I try to meet with them once every week or so to check in with their reading selections.

comprehensive language arts program for first and second grades. This book includes:

- leveled readers that cover high-interest topics
- prompts to encourage students to work with the text and text features
- discussion guides
- graphic organizers and an observation sheet

The high-interest readers are separated into three readability levels and designed to keep students' attention. Various callout boxes direct students to apply guided reading strategies to the texts, such as scanning for meaning or word work. Each reader concludes with a writing prompt. The 12-book Ready to Go: Guided Reading series for grades 1-6 includes everything you need for your guided reading group. Each 80-page book is essentially a guided reading set, containing 36 total readers, six discussion guides, and three reproducible pages. Four books are included in each grade span—each focuses on the essential reading comprehension strategies: -Infer -Connect -Question -Summarize All readers contain short nonfiction texts and text features such as callout boxes, photographs, charts, and maps.

Instructs educators on using the CAFE system to develop student's reading skills and promote comprehension, including information on tracking growth and how to talk to students.
