Small minds and attitudes from both sexes need to change. The workplace system simply cannot remain as it was decades ago when it was mostly made up of men. It is not women who should adapt to the status quo, but the status quo and the culture around it that need to change and evolve to enable men and women to bring their best self to work.

to change, as she tells the story of her career - and learning to rewrite the rules. Taking us through her working life, Mary looks at a range of topics from workplace bullying and accessing promotion, to combining a career with children and the affect that getting divorced and becoming a single parent had on her professional life. Speaking candidly about the traps she fell into - from aping the behaviour seen in aggressive corporate environments to recreating a male working culture within her own business - Mary will explode the myth of women 'having it all'. She will also track her evolution as a business leader and the decision to rebuild her company from the ground up on a model that today embraces female values. Examining practical issues, including flexible working and equal pay, and also cultural ones - such as gender bias - Mary will argue for a revolution in the way we work. Work Like a Woman is a manifesto for all- from young women entering the workforce and older women trying to integrate professional and family ambitions, to executives running businesses and creating best practice and the businesses that employ them. Honest, accessible and entertaining, it is a bold and inspiring vision of the future world of work.

Steve Harvey, the host of the nationally syndicated Steve Harvey Morning Show, can't count the number of impressive women he's met over the years, whether it's through the "Strawberry Letters" segment of his program or while on tour for his comedy shows. Yet when it comes to relationships, they can't figure out what makes men tick. Why? According to Steve it's because they're asking other women for advice when no one but another man can tell them how to find and keep a man. In Act Like a Lady, Think Like a Man, Steve lets women inside the mindset of a man and sheds light on concepts and questions such as: The Ninety Day Rule: Ford requires it of its employees. Should you require it of your man? The five questions every woman should ask a man to determine how serious he is. And much more . . . Sometimes funny, sometimes direct, but always truthful, Act Like a Lady, Think Like a Man is a book you must read if you want to understand how men think when it comes to relationships.

GUARDIAN AND NEW STATESMAN BOOKS OF THE YEAR 2017 'Compelling ... She has guts to spare ... An important story ... Role model? You bet' Tim Shipman, Sunday Times 'So human and inspiring, and my favourite book of the year so far' Rohan Silva, Guardian When Harriet Harman started her career, men-only job adverts and a 'women's rate' of pay were the norm, female MPs were a tiny minority - a woman couldn't even sign for a mortgage. But, she argues, we should never just be grateful that things are better now. There's still more to do. In A Woman's Work Harriet, Britain's longest-serving female MP, looks at her own life to see how far we've come, and where we should go next. This is an inspiring and refreshingly honest account of the part she has played (and the setbacks along the way) in the movement that transformed politics and women's lives - from helping striking female factory workers to standing for election while pregnant, from her memories of her own mother to her success in reforming the law on maternity rights, childcare, domestic violence and getting more women into parliament. But it is also a call for women today to get together and continue the fight for equality. If we don't, no one else will.

NOT A WOMAN'S is the debut literary release by Texas author Shirley A. Jones. This candid take on the life of men from the perspective of a woman who loves and knows them well is a controversial yet unifying offering that is sure to keep you glued to each sentence. "The world (men and women) mostly caters to teaching, showing and informing women how to choose a good man, how to catch a good man, how to tell if he's real, true, honest, loyal etc. There's an enormous amount of books and movies that assist these actions and that's okay. But, who's informing and assisting the men we say we want (loyal, trustworthy, helpful, loving, honest etc.) with how to?" The author observes. "It's okay to express to him how you like what you like and what works for you, what will enhance your love, kindness, loyalty, honesty, truth and trust WITHOUT a hidden agenda. What I mean is don't forget you shouldn't be the only one receiving." Shirley advises: "Whatever it is that you want, you should be willing to reciprocate. There's no duplicate of who you are. Don't make him guess. Express. I challenge you to read the book and see how the status of a man doesn't keep him from doing what he needs to do, and how to get the most out of loving and respecting him. Just know, he too can be just as picky about who he gives his love to. As you will read, these three scenarios will show different perspectives on how IT'S A MAN'S WORK THAT'S NEVER DONE, NOT A WOMAN'S." Available as an ebook, IT'S A MAN'S WORK THAT'S NEVER DONE, NOT A WOMAN'S by Shirley A. Jones may also be purchased worldwide as a paperback from bricks-and-mortar and online book retailers including your local bookstore.

find your balance when you are working long days and trying to be happy and fulfilled. Mireille Guiliano has written the kind of book she wishes she had been given when starting out in the business world and had at hand along the way. She draws on her own experiences at the forefront of women in business to offer lessons, stories, helpful hints - and even recipes! - that can make the working world a happier and more satisfying part of a well-balanced life. Mireille talks about style, communication skills, risk taking, leadership, etiquette, mentoring, personal relationships and much more, all from a perspective of three decades in business. This book is about helping women (and a few men, peut-etre) feel good about themselves, being challenged and engaged in our working lives, and always looking for pleasure in every single day.
